LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SCR 60, DeSaulnier. California Teen Safe Driving Week.

This measure would declare the first week of April 2012 and that week every year thereafter as “California Teen Safe Driving Week” to correspond with the National Distracted Driving Awareness Month. The state would observe the week with appropriate activities that promote the practice of safe driving among teenage drivers.

WHEREAS, Law enforcement and other first responders, teachers, parents, and friends are all deeply impacted by the loss of teens from motor vehicle crashes on California’s roadways; and

WHEREAS, Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for teens in the United States accounting for more than one in three deaths; and

WHEREAS, Per mile driven, teen drivers 16 to 19 years of age are four times more likely to crash than older drivers; and

WHEREAS, In 2009, more than 3,000 teens in the United States 15 to 19 years of age were killed and more than 350,000 were treated in emergency departments for injuries suffered in motor vehicle crashes; and

WHEREAS, Seventy-seven percent of the 16-year-old drivers killed in motor vehicle crashes in California were at fault; and

WHEREAS, Seventy-five percent of all fatal teen collisions are caused by reckless and distracted driving and about 25 percent of the fatalities involve alcohol and drugs; and

WHEREAS, Despite the fact that California has the highest rate of seatbelt usage in the nation, 37 percent of the 16-year-old passengers who died in motor vehicle crashes in California were not wearing seatbelts; and

WHEREAS, Approximately two-thirds of the deaths of teen passengers 13 to 19 years of age occur when other teens are driving; and

WHEREAS, One in three teen drivers are involved in motor vehicle crashes during their first year of driving; and

WHEREAS, There is no in-car driver training in California’s high schools and although driver’s education is required in California’s public school curriculum, only about one-third of the high schools actually offer it due to budget and staff limitations; and

WHEREAS, A 16-year-old soccer player has had about 1,500 hours of coached soccer practice, but only 50 hours of driving practice before getting his or her license; and

WHEREAS, A manicurist is required to have 400 supervised hours of training in order to get a license, but a teen driver needs only six hours of behind-the-wheel driving experience supervised by a professional; and

WHEREAS, It is necessary to raise awareness; reach teens, parents, and teachers; and influence change in risky driving behavior in order to reduce the number of teens killed on California's roadways each year; now, therefore, be it
